Meanwhile, Jim Harper, a non-resident Senior Fellow with the public policy think tank the American Enterprise Institute, had a different approach.

In Europe and the US, major fast-food chains like Subway and Burger King continue to accept crypto payments, often through third-party gift card services or payment processors. While not a direct, in-house integration for every location, it's a simple way for consumers to spend their Bitcoin.

The emergence of smart contracts has brought revolutionary breakthroughs to blockchain technology. These self-executing computer programs can automatically trigger corresponding operations when preset conditions are met, without manual intervention. Smart contracts not only improve transaction efficiency but also greatly reduce trust costs. Currently, smart contracts have been widely applied in decentralized finance (DeFi), digital identity authentication, the Internet of Things, and other fields. With the continuous development of technology, the functions of smart contracts will become more powerful, and application scenarios will become more abundant.
