Open banking, which allows consumers to share financial data with third-party apps through APIs, serves as a key link between traditional finance and sectors like decentralized finance (DeFi), crypto payment networks and digital banking platforms.

Both packages have now been removed and cannot be downloaded, meaning they no longer pose a risk to developers.

But here's where things get interesting: BNB has been riding a powerful parabolic support line since mid-year. The chart shows a clear parabolic advance—the kind that can deliver explosive gains but also tends to end with equally explosive corrections. Looking at the projection, if this trajectory continues uninterrupted, BNB could be trading near $2,000 by December 31, potentially delivering another 67% gain from current levels over the next 89 days.

The company's board of directors approved the plan, which will see it acquire up to $5 million of the two assets in total over the next year, according to a company announcement on Thursday.
