Admit it or not, software is deployed by developers and used by communities for certain purposes. And when hackers at cross purposes exploit the software to take things from those communities, some of the victims will appeal to the government for help. And sometimes those governments will respond by sending men with guns to restrain the hackers and imprison them.

dropped 9.5% on Friday, retesting the $3,700 level and triggering $232 million in leveraged long liquidations within 48 hours. The unexpected correction came amid a broader risk-off move fueled by credit concerns after two US regional banks announced write-offs on bad loans.

In other words, the slight price bump is not being driven by aggressive buying. Instead, the move coincides with more passive buying.

This will allow customizable lending markets while pooling liquidity through “hubs,” improving efficiency and scalability.
