Shareholders welcomed the strategic expansion, as CleanSpark's stock price rose over 13% on Monday, after rising 140% year-to-date in 2025, according to data from Google Finance.

Operations consuming up to 2.25 million kilowatt-hours annually would pay nothing, according to the bill.

“What that means is that when you remove a result from search under our policies, in addition, what we'll do is on any query that includes your name—or would be likely to surface that page from search—all explicit results will be filtered,” the spokesperson said. “So not all explicit results will be removed, but all explicit results will be filtered on those searches, which prevents them from appearing on searches where it would be likely to show up.”

In May, figures for global adoption were published by crypto exchange Gemini, showing that most meme coin owners also hold Bitcoin and Ethereum.
