However, as the price failed to hold above $110,000 on Thursday, that short-term confidence faded. While the hourly premium has turned negative, the daily reading remained slightly positive, indicating that long-term US buying support hasn't fully disappeared, but it is currently under strain.

Cross-border payment is one of the important application scenarios of blockchain technology. The traditional cross-border payment process is complex, involving multiple intermediaries, with long settlement time and high fees. In contrast, cross-border payments based on blockchain technology can realize direct peer-to-peer transactions, greatly simplifying the process, shortening settlement time, and reducing costs. Currently, several countries and financial institutions have begun to try using blockchain technology for cross-border payments. With the continuous maturity of technology and the improvement of regulatory frameworks, blockchain cross-border payments are expected to become the mainstream cross-border payment method in the future.
