US spot Bitcoin and Ethereum exchange-traded funds (ETFs) extended their losing streak Monday, marking another day of outflows as investor sentiment remained fragile amid mounting political and macroeconomic uncertainty.

Grayscale's staking-enabled ETPs have had a significant impact on Wall Street and the broader crypto ecosystem. It connects blockchain-based yield with regulated financial products, turning crypto ETPs from simple price trackers into income-generating assets. The initiative marks a key advance in institutional adoption. Regulated staking on Ethereum and Solana could draw substantial new capital to these networks while acting as a model for products linked to other PoS blockchains or tokenized assets.

The stated objective for the models is to maximize their risk-adjusted returns. The rules emphasize autonomy, requiring each AI to independently generate its trading ideas, size and time its trades, and manage its own risk, with all model outputs and corresponding trades made public for transparency.

This is the latest in a long line of campaigns specifically targeting crypto developers.

“Further steps” ahead

Ripple acquired corporate treasury management company GTreasury for $1 billion, as part of a business acquisition strategy to expand its operations.
