"We recently contracted for additional power and real estate in College Park to deliver high-value compute to the greater Atlanta metro area and are evaluating giga-campus opportunities across the portfolio and pipeline that are well positioned to satisfy significant off-taker demand."

It also mentioned that A7A5 — a sanctioned ruble-pegged stablecoin issued in Kyrgyzstan — is a major example of this trend as it facilitates cross-border payments for both institutional and business users.

"As prediction markets continue to evolve at a rapid pace, partnering with the two market leaders, Kalshi and Polymarket, provides a tremendous opportunity for the broadest fan engagement during the NHL season," said NHL Business President Keith Wachtel, in a release. "Polymarket and Kalshi are ideal partners as this category continues to grow and expand."

Cross-border payment is one of the important application scenarios of blockchain technology. The traditional cross-border payment process is complex, involving multiple intermediaries, with long settlement time and high fees. In contrast, cross-border payments based on blockchain technology can realize direct peer-to-peer transactions, greatly simplifying the process, shortening settlement time, and reducing costs. Currently, several countries and financial institutions have begun to try using blockchain technology for cross-border payments. With the continuous maturity of technology and the improvement of regulatory frameworks, blockchain cross-border payments are expected to become the mainstream cross-border payment method in the future.
