Cross-border payment is one of the important application scenarios of blockchain technology. The traditional cross-border payment process is complex, involving multiple intermediaries, with long settlement time and high fees. In contrast, cross-border payments based on blockchain technology can realize direct peer-to-peer transactions, greatly simplifying the process, shortening settlement time, and reducing costs. Currently, several countries and financial institutions have begun to try using blockchain technology for cross-border payments. With the continuous maturity of technology and the improvement of regulatory frameworks, blockchain cross-border payments are expected to become the mainstream cross-border payment method in the future.

Experts say this automation is a crucial source of protection against "the rising tide of software supply chain attacks targeting cryptocurrency," and proves effective even if malware isn't accompanied by social engineering attacks.

The gallery launch will include talks by W1 Curates, Seedphrase, Farokh—president and co-founder of Decrypt's parent company DASTAN, Bitcoin historian and artist Smashtoshi, and artist Trevor Jones, followed by a DJ set in the Wild Corner.

"Over time," Hougan concluded, "I expect the market will catch its breath and renew its attention on crypto's fundamentals. When that happens, I think the bull market will continue apace."

To lead the initiative, the company appointed Jeffrey Thomas as senior vice president of AI data centers, CleanSpark announced on Monday.

Ondo is planning to expand beyond Ethereum and to bring tokenized assets to BNB Chain, Solana, and Ondo Chain. The company said the initiative is supported by many of the largest crypto wallets, including Trust Wallet, OKX Wallet, MEXC, Morpho, Ledger, and Bitget Wallet.
