The story follows founder Griff Green's perspective as the early instantiation of decentralized governance rises, raises $160 million and then, at once, falls victim to a devastating hack.

However, he predicts that in a few years the blockchains built by these companies will most likely be abandoned when they "cause too big a headache from a technical point of view," and after users choose to avoid them because they aren't attractive enough from a "DeFi/self-custody/control-my-asset point of view."

Each fund features a unique reward structure. ETHE pays staking rewards directly to investors, while ETH and GSOL incorporate rewards into the fund's net asset value (NAV), gradually impacting share price. After deductions for custodian and sponsor fees, investors receive a net yield from validator rewards.
