His remarks come as the banking industry has spent months demanding Congress close loopholes in the GENIUS Act, the nation's first major stablecoin legislation signed into law in July.

Meanwhile, competition has intensified as major players such as BlackRock and Fidelity have entered the crypto ETF arena, driving innovation. In response, Grayscale rolled out staking-enabled ETPs that blend yield generation with traditional fund frameworks. To enhance investor trust, it launched educational initiatives such as “Staking 101: Secure the Blockchain, Earn Rewards” to promote transparency and understanding.

"We have hashing technologies, where we have the ability technologically to detect CSAM proactively," the spokesperson said. "That's something that's sort of an industry-wide standard, and we're able to block it from appearing in search."
