Elon Musk's aerospace company SpaceX moved $257 million worth of Bitcoin, its second large-scale transfer in three months, prompting speculation about a potential sale as the company faces mounting financial and political pressure.

When it comes to crypto investing, such an attitude could translate into a "readiness to engage with new and unconventional assets," he added.

Meme coin degens clearly thought it was funny, as the Bagwork token pumped 2,026% from a $131,150 market cap to $2.78 million in just seven hours. It has since dropped to about $2.4 million, according to DEX Screener.

While AI tools can help spot market trend shifts for day traders via social media and technical signals, traders still can't rely on them for autonomous trading.

A similar pattern is now unfolding in October, increasing the likelihood of a deeper decline in the coming days or weeks.

Decentralized applications (DApps) are changing the way we interact with the Internet. Unlike traditional applications, DApps run on blockchain networks, do not rely on centralized servers, and feature decentralization, openness, and immutability. Currently, DApps are mainly concentrated in games, finance, social media, and other fields, providing users with brand new experiences. Although the development of DApps still faces challenges such as user experience, performance, and scalability, with the continuous advancement of technology, we believe that DApps will become an important part of the future Internet.
