Lately, however, that decision has moved from tactical to strategic. Beyond developers deciding between ecosystems, big companies are now building their blockchains from scratch. And when the companies doing it are Stripe, Coinbase or other giants with deep regulatory and distribution advantages, the L1 stops being a neutral playing field and starts looking like a moat.

With Grok 4, you can automate the first round of filtering — for example, summarizing white papers, spotting tokenomics red flags and checking liquidity. By the time you get to manual research, you are already down to the 10% of projects that actually deserve your attention.

However, market conditions remain choppy with digital asset investment products seeing $513 million in outflows last week following a Binance liquidity cascade on October 10 that triggered nearly $20 billion in liquidations, including roughly $16.7 billion in long positions, according to a CoinShares report.

"India is unique in its challenges," Bharwani said, noting that while there is demand for digital assets and flourishing ecosystems being built, "a lack of clarity is causing founders to move away offshore."

Creditors will sell U.S. debt as they grow worried about its ability to function as a store of value, he said. That will likely put the Federal Reserve in a tough position, Dalio added, where it has to decide between rising interest rates and a debt default crisis or printing money to buy debt and "try to hold real interest rates down, which will lower the value of money."

Not everyone in crypto has popped open the champagne following Waller's announcement, however. Caitlin Long, founder of Custodia, a Wyoming-chartered crypto bank that has sought for years to earn a full-fledged master account, cautioned Tuesday that Waller specified the Fed's new program would apply to "legally eligible entities" if enacted—and that the devil is in those details.
