Cross-border payment is one of the important application scenarios of blockchain technology. The traditional cross-border payment process is complex, involving multiple intermediaries, with long settlement time and high fees. In contrast, cross-border payments based on blockchain technology can realize direct peer-to-peer transactions, greatly simplifying the process, shortening settlement time, and reducing costs. Currently, several countries and financial institutions have begun to try using blockchain technology for cross-border payments. With the continuous maturity of technology and the improvement of regulatory frameworks, blockchain cross-border payments are expected to become the mainstream cross-border payment method in the future.

Robinhood has expanded its tokenization initiative on the Arbitrum blockchain, deploying 80 new stock tokens in the past few days and bringing the total number of tokenized assets close to 500.
