The character, developed by comedian and technologist Eline Van der Velden—who spun off Xicoia from her production company Particle6—was unveiled last week at the Zurich Summit during the Zurich Film Festival in Switzerland, and immediately drew online attention. Van der Velden said multiple talent agents are already interested in signing the artificial personality.

The deal is expected to generate a total cumulative revenue of over $3.5 billion for the world's largest Bitcoin mining firm, during the initial 12-year terms of the contracts, Cointelegraph reported.

Li founded the Huobi exchange in 2013, later selling the company to crypto entrepreneur Justin Sun. Tensions between the two individuals included lawsuits over the use of the term Huobi Global and accusations of fraud.

This surge in activity also served as a real-world stress test for the Algorand blockchain. With tens of thousands of participants generating nearly 300,000 transactions, the network maintained its performance. Users experienced the platform's "low fees, instant transaction finality and zero transaction failures" firsthand.
