But not this time. Analysts at the British multinational bank Standard Chartered, who have long been bullish on Bitcoin, don't think it stops here either. Geoff Kendrick, the bank's global head of digital assets, said in an investor note published Friday that he expects the price of Bitcoin to reach at least $135,000 in the near term and top $200,000 before the end of the year.

In a post on Sunday, the Ethereum core dev, who goes by "Fede's intern" on X, argued that while Paradigm has "created valuable things for the community," he is worried about the growing influence of a venture fund whose ultimate goals are driven by profit and influence.

The US dollar is on track for its worst year since 1973, amid Bitcoin and gold hitting new all-time highs, according to investment analysts at The Kobeissi Letter.

Modern encryption key lengths range anywhere from 2,048 to 4,096 bits, with current quantum computers only able to break keys of about 22 bits in size or less, Mental Outlaw said.

“The scale of institutional activity is particularly notable,” Chainalysis said, referring to large transfers — those exceeding $10 million — surging 86% year-over-year (YoY). The surge pace is nearly double the 44% growth observed in the rest of Europe, it added.

Bitcoin miners are typically large operations run by companies in warehouses that use lots of electricity to process transactions on the virtual coin's network and mint new coins.
