In Europe and the US, major fast-food chains like Subway and Burger King continue to accept crypto payments, often through third-party gift card services or payment processors. While not a direct, in-house integration for every location, it's a simple way for consumers to spend their Bitcoin.

“Evaluate how likely the current X-driven pump for [TICKER] is organic. Cross-reference recent GitHub commits, official releases, known vesting schedules and the largest onchain transfers in the past 72 hours. Provide a confidence score 0-10 and list five specific verification links.”

Miners typically rely on the price of Bitcoin to go up to cover costs but continued volatility for the asset has spurred some large miners to branch into high-powered computing.
