Bull market has room to run

"For too long, money has been stuck in slow, outdated payment systems and infrastructure, causing unnecessary delays, high costs, and roadblocks to entering new markets — problems that blockchain technologies are ideally suited to solve."

The main goal of VCs like Paradigm is to "suck as much value as possible from the Ethereum and broader ecosystem," while their secondary goals include "progressing the systems towards rigorous decentralization," wrote Lubin in a Monday X post, adding that there is "no reason for concern."

However, he predicts that in a few years the blockchains built by these companies will most likely be abandoned when they “cause too big a headache from a technical point of view,” and after users choose to avoid them because they aren’t attractive enough from a “DeFi/self-custody/control-my-asset point of view.”

"Bitcoin was easy because it's the gold standard for crypto," the continued. "We believe Trump coin is undervalued, considering that it's the coin backed by the President of the United States, who is not only popular in the United States but a global figure respected and followed all over the world."

Tempo is still in the works and will be a stablecoin and payments-focused L1 with Stripe essentially being in control of the network. Its ethos marks a stark contrast to Ethereum's decentralized and open-source nature, given that it will be a corporate-controlled chain.
