Tempo has raised the funds in a Series A round that now values the project at $5 billion, according to a Friday report in Fortune. The round was reportedly co-led by venture firm Greenoaks and Joshua Kushner's Thrive Capital.

“The shift is driven by the convenience and significant tax benefits offered by ETFs, as well as the ability for major investors to manage their wealth through existing financial advisers and access broader investment/lending services,” Hiesboeck said.

Woo’s point is that crypto markets don’t exist in isolation and are affected by these broader economic cycles, particularly through their impact on liquidity.

Also, the candlesticks have started to show signs of extreme FOMO. A parabolic chart is already hyperbullish, but a parabolic chart in which the bodies of the latest candlesticks are moving faster than the support, is probably too good to be true. Common sense says there must be a correction for markets to find some balance.
