One such campaign is Algorand, a 13-week onchain questing campaign launched by the layer-1 blockchain Algorand to showcase its ecosystem and technical capabilities. The campaign, which began on Sept. 22, has concluded its third week, and the onchain data from its initial phase is now available.

But here's where things get interesting: BNB has been riding a powerful parabolic support line since mid-year. The chart shows a clear parabolic advance—the kind that can deliver explosive gains but also tends to end with equally explosive corrections. Looking at the projection, if this trajectory continues uninterrupted, BNB could be trading near $2,000 by December 31, potentially delivering another 67% gain from current levels over the next 89 days.

Despite growing concerns over VC influence on the blockchain space, the industry still relies on traditional investment funds to attract more mainstream capital for sustained development.

In a text to Decrypt, ETF.com Senior ETF Analyst Sumit Roy noted market concern about 3X funds and their potential limited audience.

“Bitcoin search interest on Google is at bear market levels,” said trader Mister Crypto in an X post on Wednesday, asking:
