TRUMP is now changing hands at $5.90, nearly 92% off its January all-time high of $73.43.

Decentralization concerns are also significant. Institutional staking may enhance validator control, granting large funds outsized influence over governance and network security of the underlying blockchains. This would be against the core principles of decentralization.

Ethereum could eventually surpass Bitcoin's market share in a similar manner to how US equities overtook gold 54 years ago, when the US abandoned the gold standard, according to BitMine chair Tom Lee.

In between are the hybrids, those L1s that want to be open enough to attract the crypto-native crowd but structured enough to keep institutions comfortable. This middle ground is where some of the most interesting battles will be fought — because it's the one place both sides might meet.
