With Google's new update, when a request to remove non-consensual deepfake websites found in a search is received, Google will also work to filter similar search results that include the name of the person being impersonated.

The deal arrives as the crypto industry witnesses "a powerful convergence between digital assets and traditional financial markets," Raghu Yarlagadda, CEO of FalconX, wrote in a statement shared with Decrypt.

On Oct. 10, 2024, Kobayashi announced that most repayments to verified creditors had been completed, though many were still pending due to incomplete procedures or processing issues.

“These protections have already proven to be successful in addressing other types of non-consensual imagery, and we’ve now built the same capabilities for fake explicit images as well,” Google said. “These efforts are designed to give people added peace of mind, especially if they’re concerned about similar content about them popping up in the future.”

Why these three? Each has strong brand recognition, decent liquidity and different strengths: BTC as the store-of-value, ETH with its smart contract ecosystem and XRP with fast settlement and cross-border payments. Together, they cover what businesses need: trust, functionality and speed.

On Friday, Assembly Bill A9138 was introduced in the New York State Assembly by Democratic Assembly member Anna Kelles and referred to the Ways & Means Committee.
