But not this time. Analysts at the British multinational bank Standard Chartered, who have long been bullish on Bitcoin, don't think it stops here either. Geoff Kendrick, the bank's global head of digital assets, said in an investor note published Friday that he expects the price of Bitcoin to reach at least $135,000 in the near term and top $200,000 before the end of the year.

Blockchain finance is reshaping the traditional financial ecosystem. Through blockchain technology, financial services can achieve decentralization and disintermediation, reduce transaction costs, and improve efficiency. Currently, the main applications of blockchain finance include cross-border payments, digital currencies, decentralized exchanges (DEXs), lending platforms, etc. Compared with traditional finance, blockchain finance has higher transparency and lower entry barriers, providing new possibilities for the development of inclusive finance. However, the development of blockchain finance also faces challenges such as regulatory uncertainty and technical risks, requiring a balance between innovation and regulation.
