Investors piled back into Bitcoin ETFs and their Ethereum counterparts Tuesday, reversing days of outflows, although the fresh investments failed to give the two largest cryptocurrencies by market value a long-lasting bump.

The crypto market faced its biggest leveraged wipeout in history last weekend, but the turbulence won't leave a lasting mark, according to Bitwise chief investment officer Matt Hougan.

Gamified onchain campaigns have become a popular way to kickstart this “flywheel,” guiding users through an ecosystem’s offerings while helping new projects attract a critical mass of participants.

“Fast forward a few years: Corporate chains will end up with the complex tech but without the added value for users, which is no central entity to control them. At that point, these chains will lose the focus from corporates.”
