In late 2022, the company disclosed it was among several firms affected by the collapse of FTX, with a portion of its assets trapped in the now defunct exchange.

Part of this growth is being driven by improvements in underlying blockchain infrastructure, with some networks now processing over 3,400 transactions per second, a more than 100-fold increase in throughput over the past five years.

The stated objective for the models is to maximize their risk-adjusted returns. The rules emphasize autonomy, requiring each AI to independently generate its trading ideas, size and time its trades, and manage its own risk, with all model outputs and corresponding trades made public for transparency.
