Part of this growth is being driven by improvements in underlying blockchain infrastructure, with some networks now processing over 3,400 transactions per second, a more than 100-fold increase in throughput over the past five years.

Zeta Network Group's chief investment officer, Patrick Ngan, said in a statement shared with Decrypt that the balance-sheet allocation reinforces the group's "long-term financial position," adding that the move could enhance their financial resilience through "an instrument that combines Bitcoin's scarcity with sustainable yield.”

“The bottom line is, unless there is an audience for this, there’s no future,” he said. “I’m not an expert in almost anything, but there’s one thing that I can say I have at least a little bit of knowledge in, and that’s video. I’ve made so many.”

Ripple continues to ink partnerships with traditional financial companies and digital asset projects alike, committing to several deals in September and October.

One such campaign is Algoland, a 13-week onchain questing campaign launched by the layer-1 blockchain Algorand to showcase its ecosystem and technical capabilities. The campaign, which began on Sept. 22, has concluded its third week, and the onchain data from its initial phase is now available.
