“It’s not exactly clear what happened, but somehow the president of Argentina was promoting this shitcoin, and Hayden was involved,” he said. “I was really inspired by that.”

Bitcoin dropped below $108,000 per coin in September as the biggest digital coin started "showing signs of exhaustion," according to Glassnode analysts, as long-term holders took profits and ETF flows slowed down.

According to CoinGecko, the token's 24-hour trading volume is $1.23 million, up 28.5% from the previous day. The coin has gained 193.7% in the past week and is currently priced at $0.0009073.

Analysts remain wary of digital assets' future price path as markets reckon with a re-escalation of the Trump administration's global trade war, inflation and economic worries, and other macroeconomic uncertainties. "It's likely too early to tell if this is the bottom though as wider markets are choppy, particularly gold," James Butterfill, global head of research at crypto asset manager CoinShares told Decrypt.

It's worth noting that Donald Trump is estimated by Forbes to be worth $7.1 billion, meaning that his share of these crypto profits could represent a sizable chunk of his net worth.
