The Average Directional Index, or ADX, sits at 33, well above the critical 25 threshold that confirms a strong trending market. Think of ADX as your “trend strength meter”—it doesn’t care about direction, just whether a real trend exists. Below 20, you’re in choppy waters where false breakouts are common. Above 25, you’ve got momentum. At 33, BNB is firmly in trending territory, meaning institutions and retail are moving in the same direction, creating sustained buying pressure that can carry prices significantly higher.

Wall Street and the crypto world have long operated in separate spaces. While Wall Street was defined by traditional finance and clear regulatory norms, the crypto industry evolved around decentralized systems and shifting regulations. That divide is now narrowing, thanks to the launch of the first publicly traded investment vehicle dedicated to staking cryptocurrency.

The November election will determine whether CalPERS continues its current approach of indirect crypto exposure or potentially opens discussions about direct digital asset investment.

“From what we’ve seen, audiences aren’t interested in watching computer-generated content untethered from the human experience,” they said.

retail investors are known for entering the market during periods of euphoria, typically after strong rallies or new all-time highs. Still, despite Bitcoin hitting multiple all-time highs in 2025, the general public’s interest and retail activity continue to lag.

This surge in activity also served as a real-world stress test for the Algorand blockchain. With tens of thousands of participants generating nearly 300,000 transactions, the network maintained its performance. Users experienced the platform’s “low fees, instant transaction finality and zero transaction failures” firsthand.
