House of Doge was founded earlier this year to help grow mainstream awareness and adoption of the world’s biggest meme coin. Since that time, the firm has collaborated with publicly traded CleanCore on a DOGE treasury chaired by Alex Spiro, the personal lawyer of DOGE-friendly billionaire entrepreneur, Elon Musk.

Cross-border payment is one of the important application scenarios of blockchain technology. The traditional cross-border payment process is complex, involving multiple intermediaries, with long settlement time and high fees. In contrast, cross-border payments based on blockchain technology can realize direct peer-to-peer transactions, greatly simplifying the process, shortening settlement time, and reducing costs. Currently, several countries and financial institutions have begun to try using blockchain technology for cross-border payments. With the continuous maturity of technology and the improvement of regulatory frameworks, blockchain cross-border payments are expected to become the mainstream cross-border payment method in the future.

The UK’s renewed scrutiny of crypto companies came amid regulators in the country easing rules by lifting the ban on crypto exchange-traded notes (ETNs) and publishing a roadmap for tokenized investment funds in a bid to remain competitive with crypto-friendly countries like the US.

Outside of purely financial plays, it has made several moves that display a firm conviction in the crypto community. It submitted an amicus brief in support of Tornado Cash co-founder Roman Storm and hired respected blockchain sleuth ZachXBT as an adviser to fund research and help protect its VC companies.

There was a spike in early 2020 due to the pandemic-induced lockdowns, but it was an extremely short recession. Currently, there is no imminent recession threat, though elevated risk remains.

Weekly prediction market volume set a new high-water mark above $2 billion as Polymarket retakes its lead over competitor Kalshi, according to Dune Analytics data. Both Polymarket and Kalshi have experienced massive increases in user activity and trading volume over the last several months, as prediction markets as a whole gain broader mainstream awareness and adoption. Kalshi, as the first federally regulated prediction market platform in the U.S., saw a leap in user activity in August—not coin...
