At the start of the year, there were about $205 billion worth of stablecoins in circulation, according to data aggregator DeFi Llama. Within the past week, the total market cap for stablecoins has surpassed $302 billion. That kind of rapid growth will need to accelerate in the coming years to fulfill Standard Chartered's projections.

“In years past, stablecoins were used mostly to settle speculative crypto trades; as of the last couple years, they have become the fastest, cheapest, and most global way to send a dollar,” the report said.
