Offering tokenized stocks has become a point of focus for many U.S.-based crypto companies. Crypto exchange Coinbase has said it wants to tokenize stocks since before its IPO and recently renewed the push. Trading platform Robinhood made waves in early July when its tokenized stock offerings included private companies—namely OpenAI and SpaceX.

Both packages have now been removed and cannot be downloaded, meaning they no longer pose a risk to developers.

Decrypt has reached out separately to Digital River for comment on their former employee's actions and sentencing.

The introduction of Google's AI summaries has raised huge red flags for web publishers, however, as users are less likely to visit their sites if the information is extracted and provided up front. The issue is compounded by AI's tendency to hallucinate, and even provide dangerous answers based on flawed sources.
