Hackers will take control of a legitimate website address through a Loader Script and embed JavaScript code into the website, triggering a separate malicious code package in a smart contract designed to steal funds and data once the user interacts with the compromised site.

WBTC requires trust because the Bitcoin backing it is held by a centralized custodian who must be trusted not to lose, freeze, or misuse the funds. Users depend on this custodian's honesty and solvency rather than cryptographic guarantees. This is the primary issue addressed by Babylon's trustless implementation.
