This article discusses what crypto staking is, what has prevented greater institutional participation and how Grayscale has encouraged the institutionalization of crypto investment. It also highlights regulatory and market changes surrounding staking and explains how Grayscale’s spot crypto ETPs deliver staking yields to investors. Finally, it outlines the risks associated with staking funds and shows how Grayscale’s ETPs have shifted crypto from a price-tracking asset to an income-generating one.

In general, both retail and institutional investors continue to focus on buying and holding tokens for price gains rather than staking them. Operating validator nodes requires substantial capital, technical know-how and uninterrupted uptime. It also exposes participants to risks such as slashing penalties and custody challenges. Additionally, in many jurisdictions, the regulatory treatment of staking rewards remains unclear.
