This guide shows how to read those signals (and wait for confirmation) before putting capital at risk.

That is, of course, if you trust that the planets will align and the trend will remain valid until new year's eve.

"While differentiating between this content is a technical challenge for search engines, we're making ongoing improvements to better surface legitimate content and downrank explicit fake content," Google said. In regards to CSAM, the Google spokesperson said the company takes this subject very seriously and has dedicated an entire team specially to combat this illegal content.

Meanwhile, South Korea's National Tax Service (NTS) has also intensified its crackdown on crypto tax evasion, warning that even assets stored in cold wallets will be seized if linked to unpaid taxes.

"To be honest, I don't think this dump has anything to do with Justin Sun. He barely moved funds to centralized exchanges, and this morning's transfers were just from one of his addresses to another," he said. "His latest statement saying he has nothing to do with the dump looks legitimate."

App-specific layer-1 chains that must build out their own validator set suffer from centralization issues and could face increased legal liability, Mehta said.
