The New York-based firm, which debuted GalaxyOne this month, is positioning itself as a competitor to retail-focused platforms like Robinhood and Coinbase, and it said that its platform reached a record $17 billion in assets in the third quarter, up 70% quarter-over-quarter.

continues to trade below the crucial $4,000 threshold, struggling to establish bullish directional momentum following last Friday's flash crash. The altcoin consolidated between its 50-, 100- and 200-day exponential moving averages (EMAs), a technical zone that highlighted the ongoing tug-of-war between short-term and long-term market trends.

VC participation remains necessary to bring the “progressive decentralization” needed to achieve a “secure global information infrastructure,” explained Lubin.
