OpenAI has announced its intention to enter the search engine market with the announcement of SearchGPT, an AI-powered search engine that aims to make searching more natural for users. Although described as a “temporary prototype,” the Thursday reveal is a clear shot across the bow of the singularly dominant Google—as well as Microsoft Bing, which currently provides search results for OpenAI's ChatGPT.

Meanwhile, ChatGPT and Gemini maintained their initial short positions after the bottom to incur losses, signaling that the two models are less reliable for cryptocurrency traders.

The sector continues to grow, with users of prediction market Myriad (launched by Decrypt's parent company Dastan) placing a 55% chance on the market cap of all stablecoins crossing $360 billion before February 2026.

The credit is backed by the miner's Bitcoin holdings and is intended to strengthen liquidity while the firm pursues "accretive growth using non-dilutive financing," Gary A. Vecchiarelli, chief financial officer and president at CleanSpark, wrote in a statement.
