Galaxy Digital shares jumped on Tuesday after the institutional crypto firm reported $505 million in third-quarter profits amid an increasing amount of assets on its platform.

“Not liking this Ethereum weekly MACD cross to red after 22 weeks green,” said analyst CRYPTO Damus in a Tuesday post on X, adding that the last three times the bear cross occurred were followed by significant ETH price drops.

“These protections have already proven to be successful in addressing other types of non-consensual imagery, and we’ve now built the same capabilities for fake explicit images as well,” Google said. “These efforts are designed to give people added peace of mind, especially if they’re concerned about similar content about them popping up in the future.”

Yarlagadda noted that crypto exchange-traded products are expected to “open new channels for investor participation through regulated, familiar structures,” citing his company’s work in building an “institutional backbone” for trading, derivatives, and credit.

Decentralization concerns are also significant. Institutional staking may enhance validator control, granting large funds outsized influence over governance and network security of the underlying blockchains. This would be against the core principles of decentralization.
