"We have seen crypto firms react positively to our financial promotions rules and regulations; however, where we still see poor practices, we will not hesitate to take action where firms appear to be breaching our rules."

He adds that while a 25 basis-point rate cut by the Federal Reserve is priced in as highly likely, "failure to see a cut at the next FOMC will make September a lot more painful."

The company has since closed its Minnesota headquarters, suspended most of its global services, and begun winding down its operations.

"We may be seeing the same thing playing out here, and the result will be the same," Puckrin added. "The irony is that moves like these don't tend to lead to cleaner practices; they just push mining operations out of state."
