Blockchain finance is reshaping the traditional financial ecosystem. Through blockchain technology, financial services can achieve decentralization and disintermediation, reduce transaction costs, and improve efficiency. Currently, the main applications of blockchain finance include cross-border payments, digital currencies, decentralized exchanges (DEXs), lending platforms, etc. Compared with traditional finance, blockchain finance has higher transparency and lower entry barriers, providing new possibilities for the development of inclusive finance. However, the development of blockchain finance also faces challenges such as regulatory uncertainty and technical risks, requiring a balance between innovation and regulation.

American entrepreneur Elon Musk triggered a short-term rally in the memecoin market after posting a playful message on his social media platform X.

The price of Bitcoin soared to a new record high during Asia trading hours on nearly $50 billion in trading volume over the last 24 hours, per data from CoinGecko. As bullish traders piled in pushing the price upward, almost $100 million in short positions were liquidated in just one hour, according to CoinGlass. More than $200 million in BTC shorts were turned into forced buyers in the last 24 hours.

Beyond these giants, e-commerce platforms like Shopify have democratized the use of digital currency by making it simple for millions of small and medium-sized businesses to include a cryptocurrency checkout option.

To address these concerns, OpenAI said publishers will be able to adopt different strategies when dealing with its search engine and its AI chatbot.
