The funds will support energy expansion, mining growth, and new high-performance computing projects, with the move building on earlier steps, the company said.

Creditors will sell U.S. debt as they grow worried about its ability to function as a store of value, he said. That will likely put the Federal Reserve in a tough position, Dalio added, where it has to decide between rising interest rates and a debt default crisis or printing money to buy debt and "try to hold real interest rates down, which will lower the value of money."
