technical zone that highlighted the ongoing tug-of-war between short-term and long-term market trends.

In 2024, officials sought to address the country's debt by raising money through taxes, including a 16% sales tax on bread and 25% tax on vegetable oil. As protests broke out, some groups urged citizens to begin using crypto as a way to bypass what they saw as unfair taxation.

"The elephant in the room is are DATs really justified?" Chu questioned, noting "without a credible business case, rigorous governance, robust custody, and transparent risk controls, such DAT structures can become misaligned with shareholder interests and could invite the kind of liquidity and governance risks regulators worry about."
