Coinbase's Duong said the crypto bull market "has room to run," but is more cautious after the events of Oct. 10.

In early July, Mt. Gox wallets began moving Bitcoin as the exchange prepared for creditor repayments under the civil rehabilitation plan. Markets initially feared that recipients would immediately sell. Bitcoin dipped again after Kraken, one of the exchanges handling distributions, announced on July 24 that it had completed its process.

Also, the candlesticks have started to show signs of extreme FOMO. A parabolic chart is already hyperbullish, but a parabolic chart in which the bodies of the latest candlesticks are moving faster than the support, is probably too good to be true. Common sense says there must be a correction for markets to find some balance.

Traders would consider this correction healthy, allowing the token to consolidate gains and work off overbought conditions, bringing RSI back to neutral 50-60 territory. If $1,050 holds, bulls maintain control and the uptrend stays intact for another leg higher.

Cointelegraph reached out to Paradigm for comment, but did not hear back by the time of writing.
